Prepare For An Early Spring

All indications point to an early Spring; will your horses be in condition to carry on the strenuous spring tasks? With a little special attention just now you can have them in the pink of condition, first get them rid of the BOTS and various intestinal worms. These worms will perforate the stomach of the beast, if left alone, causing all sorts of illness just at the time your horse should be doing his bit. There is not a more reliable remedy in the world than Sure Shot Bot and Worm Remover. A package of this will over pay for its self in the saving of feed. Call at the Local Drug Store and see this famous remedy. If you find your horses in poor condition you can soon overcome this by giving them Dr. Hess' Stock Tonic, which will purify their blood, stimulate the kidneys and put their digestive organs in good condition; or you may have a good conditional recipe of our own which we will gladly fill for you. Beware of Blackleg This Spring

Blackleg germs live in your pastures for years, when your calves and young stock pick up these germs it means certain death unless you Vaccinate with Cutters' Blackleg Vaccine, it costs but little and will insure your stock. You will require Fresh Formaldehyde this year, the price is down and the quality good. We will stock a full line of Gopher Poisons and the prices have been reduced.

ROSY CHEEKED HEALTHY WOMEN

Know the Full Value of Rich, Red Blood

Robust, healthy, red-cheeked women seldom worry. Their condition of mind and body is such that they can rise above the causes that bring melancholy and brooding. It is the woman with weak, watery blood who is thrown into nervous unrest by little annoyances that grow so great in the imagination that it seems as if she must succumb to every further cause for worry. Good blood is necessary to every woman who has grown pale and weak, and in this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found of great benefit, because they enrich and purify the blood. Women who are anemic, suffer from indigestion, palpitation, headaches and nervous attacks will find new strength through a fair use of these pills. Among the women who have proved the value of this medicine is Mrs. Enos Levy, Hackett's Cove, N.S., who says: "About two years ago I began to fail in health and was very weak. My constitution was all run down, and my blood was weak and watery, as was manifest every month. I had given up Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and what they would do for the blood, and being in such a low condition I decided to try them. By the time I had finished the fourth box I found to my delight that I was a great deal stronger, and my blood a deep red color. I have a lot of work to do besides taking care of my little one, and with my good health I enjoy it, and I can truthfully say I owe this condition to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer, or may be had by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Farmers' Timber Supply In Northern Parts Of The Prairie Provinces

The various phases of work which have their sources in Canada's forests, combine to make the lumber industry one of the most important of the Dominion, and the total commercial cut together with the various allied industries utilizing lumber in manufacture, run the aggregate value each year to a handsome revenue. This, nevertheless, does not comprise by any means the entire value of Canada's timber to the country, and there is a large domestic consumption of which no record or statistics are available. Timber plays no small part in relation to the Dominion's first industry of agriculture, and the presence and availability of timber in agricultural sections means a great deal to the farmers in those areas, and makes for a general economy.

What are generally designated as the Prairie Provinces of Western Canada, which have of recent years, become one of the first agriculturally producing regions of the world, are popularly supposed to be bare of any tree growth from their very name. Those who know the region, however, are aware to what an extent the name is a misnomer. While the southern portion of the plain which the three provinces takes in appears to be a bald, denuded stretch, clumps of brush and trees are always to be found in the vicinity of watercourses, which are numerous, and in the region of the foothills. These supplies render a certain amount of timber available as well as providing shade and shelter to stock.

When one travels north, however, the prairie is left behind and one reaches what is a fairly, clearly defined division between the bald plain and the timber country. This growth is not in the nature of forest, but from the scattered and somewhat orderly distribution, with the appearance of having been especially laid out, has given to the country the description of parkland. The timber is never so dense or heavy as to impede or curtail ordinary farming operations, yet gives the farmer all the advantages which a tree growth possesses for a farming community. For his stock it is summer shade and winter shelter; for the farmer, fuel, fencing and material for building.

Where farmers have settled on the clearer sections of the parklands, or are indisposed to cut down their own trees, timber for their many needs can be cut on adjacent unfilled lands or on the Government forest reserves which have been held back from settlement and are to be found in many parts of the Western Provinces. Though these reserves have been made for the preservation of the timber, cutting is permitted to the mature timber to enable lesser sizes to attain full growth, and for other reasons. There are more than 22,500 square miles of forest reserves in the Prairie Provinces which have at all times a large supply of surplus timber available for the many uses of the farming settlements about them.

In the North Battleford district of Saskatchewan, for instance, there is a forest reserve which is one of the most valuable assets of the rich farming country of the Battleford region. Farmers, who have a greater and wider need for timber than others, draw their supplies of fuel, fencing and building material from this source. Small private mills have been erected for the purpose of manufacturing lumber and the farmer secures the necessary material for his house and buildings very economically, from timber he has cut himself.

Nature in creating Western Canada has provided for many of the needs of the settlers to come, and in the timber, with which she dotted the country, is one of the farmer's most valuable assets.

Manitoba Homesteads

During 1921 free grant homesteads to the number of 870 were entered for at the Dominion Land Office for the Winnipeg land division. This represents approximately 139,299 acres. A large number of soldier grants were also entered for in this division. The remaining free grant land in the Winnipeg district is chiefly north and east of the city.

How Our Soldiers

Escaped Typhoid

Used Invention of Professor Woodhead to Chlorinate Drinking Water

Sir German Sims Woodhead, Professor of Pathology at Cambridge University since 1899, died suddenly aged 66 at Ailthorpe Hall, near Lincoln, Eng., where he had been staying over the holidays. He had been falling in health for the past year or so, but had carried on his work as usual.

Sir German was best known as the inventor of the process of chlorinating drinking water for the British troops during the war. This invention killed any germs that were in the water and so prevented the spread of typhoid and other enteric disease.

He was a member of the Royal Commission on Tuberculosis in 1902 and of the executive committee of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund. He acted as inspector of laboratories in military hospitals in the United Kingdom and was formerly adviser in pathology to the War Office.

He was twice mentioned in despatches for his special war services, and was knighted in 1919. He was also a pillar of the cause of vegetarianism.

Feeding of Chicks

Some Profitable Methods Proved by Actual Experiment

Some interesting experiments in the feeding and housing, hatching and brooding of chickens are recorded in Experimental Farms Circular No. 20 by the Superintendent of the Station on Vancouver Island, B.C. In the spring of 1916 a thousand day-old White Wyandotte chicks were purchased for this station, and all the experiments since have been conducted with this breed. Various types of houses and brooders were experimented with and some interesting deductions are the result. Characteristic of the various methods of feeding chicks are also given. The circular contains the following recommendations:

Do not chill or overheat the chicks. If they pant, they are too hot; if they huddle together they are not warm enough.

Be careful not to overfeed the first week.

Don't allow chicks to crowd in brooders or colony houses.

Place chicks on the range in colony houses after the eighth week.

Do not let the cockerels and pullets run together.

Change the water daily and be sure that it is clean.

Give plenty of green feed.

Feed sour milk wherever possible.

Don't omit to supply charcoal, grit and shell.

Make changes of food and feeding gradually.

Clean and disinfect brooder frequently.

See that the feed or straw is not damp or mouldy.

Universal Truths

Nations Can Only Pay Debts by Increased Production

Australia, still on the threshold of nationhood, has incurred a huge war debt, in addition to outstanding loans. When the people of Australia borrow millions these are not received as sovereigns and bank notes. They are obtained as goods for consumption, or represent credits for goods. And these millions of loan moneys must be repaid in goods, whether such be raw materials or manufactures. The immediate need is for increased production, for it is clear that the sooner the means to pay are provided the sooner will outstanding liabilities be discharged. The only way by which production can be increased is by working to increase it.—Australasian.

For Return of Natural Resources

Premier King Offers Plan for Early Settlement

In a letter written to the premiers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, prime minister, outlines the proposal of the Government for returning the natural resources to the prairie provinces. Premier King's proposal, in a nutshell, is that the prairie provinces relinquish the subsidies which they have received in lieu of their lands and receive the resources.

"The shortest and simplest way of settlement, the one admitting of quick results, would be to ignore the transactions of the past and make a fresh start," the Premier says.

The Prime Minister states in his letter that the question of returning the natural resources has been complicated in the past by objections raised on the part of the other provinces, who have claimed that if the requests of the prairie provinces were granted, new conditions would arise which would entitle them (the other provinces) to compensation. Speaking on behalf of the Government, he expresses the opinion that any claims on the part of the eastern provinces will probably be removed if it is understood that on receiving their natural resources, the prairie provinces will surrender the subsidies.

The Premier makes it clear that any arrangement arrived at is subject to the approval of Parliament.

World's Highest Inhabited Point

Men Spend Summer in Himalayas at Altitude of 18,400 Feet

What is the greatest height at which people live on the earth?

There is, it seems, a shepherd living with his family in the Andes at a height of 17,100 feet, and this has been claimed to be a record, that is, for permanent habitation.

When it comes to a question of a temporary abode, however, this altitude, great as it is, is easily beaten, for on one of the Himalayan passes, 18,400 feet high, a small band of hardy men live during the summer.

The men, numbering less than half a dozen, are Tibetan Custom House officers, and are specially selected for their powers of endurance, as one would expect them to be, in order to exist even for a few weeks in air which must contain so very much less oxygen than there is at sea-level.

From such an elevated pass these men must have a magnificent view of the great Tibetan plateau, the inhabitants of which themselves seem to live comfortably at heights of 15,000 or more feet.

It would be interesting to know at what height human beings could custom themselves to live. There is no reason to suppose that 18,400 feet is the limit.

Letter Writing is Lost Art

Rush of Modern Life Leave No Time For It

It is often said that good letters, such as our father and grandfather used to write and receive, are no longer written. The pressure of modern life is such, so it is argued, and the rush so great, that there is no time for the pursuit of letter writing as an art. One cannot read the letters, say of Horace Walpole, without being conscious that something of beauty and value has disappeared from our life. Something must be done if an old and gracious art is not to be permanently lost, lost with the belief that education and refinement really have some value and charm.—Indianapolis News.

Mother! Open Child's Bowels With California Fig Syrup

Your little one will love the "Fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" even if constipated, bilious, irritable, feverish, or full of cold. A teaspoonful never fails to cleanse the system and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the sour bile, and undigested food out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Colonization Plans Now Occupying The Attention Of The Federal Government

Favors Waterway Project

U.S. President Says There is Far-Seeing Vision in the Proposal

The administration plan for government aid for the United States Merchant Marine presented to the U.S. Congress by President Harding provides a subsidy of about $22,000,000 annually to be paid to United States shipowners by the diversion of 10 per cent. of the nation's customs receipts to that purpose.

President Harding came out strongly in favor of the St. Lawrence waterways project in the course of his message to Congress on the ship subsidy bill. Alluding to the awakened interest in water transportation Mr. Harding said:

"We have a new manifestation of this broadened vision in the enthusiasm of the great middle west for the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, by which it is intended to connect the Great Lakes ports with the marts of the world."

"There is far-seeing vision in the proposal and this great and commendable enterprise, is inseparable from a great merchant marine."

Blood Money

Reward Given in Middle Ages for Causing Death

"Blood Money" was the name applied in the Middle Ages and well into the more modern period to the money paid for bloodshed. It might be either the compensation paid by a manslayer to the nearest relatives of the victim, to secure himself and his kin from vengeance, or the money paid as a reward for bringing about the death of another, directly or through evidence. It was once common among the Scandinavian and Teutonic peoples, who called this money payment wergild. The price varied with the nature of the crime and the rank of the victim. Certain crimes, such as the slaying of a sleeping person, could not be compensated by a money payment; such criminals were declared outlaws and could be slain with impunity. The term is now often applied to the reward or bribe paid for giving up a criminal to justice.

Work Pays

Everything in Life Teaches the Importance of Work

There is nothing so true as that work pays. If your roof leaks, you may replenish it; if your crop was poor last summer, you may improve it this summer, with more care and effort. Everything in life teaches the importance of work. If you are a woodcutter, and your axe is dull, a little work at the grindstone will improve it. It is all a question of industry; of being pains; of being thrifty, and earning the respect of those with whom you are associated. But the cry now is for less work. The remedy is more work.—Howe's Monthly.

Boy: "Ah dinna ken."

Gentleman: "Do you live in these parts?"

Boy: "Ay."

Gentleman: "How old are you?"

Boy: "Eleven."

Gentleman: "And you can't tell me how long it will take to walk to Milngavie! Crass ignorance, I call it!" (Starts on his way.)

Boy (shouting): "T'will take ye about three hours."

Gentleman (angrily): "Why didn't you say so at first?"

Boy: "Hoo could ah till I saw ye walk!"

Canoes for Far North

Sixty-eight canoes, including all models from the light craft to the larger vessels of the freight and cruiser type, left Edmonton recently from the Alberta Motor Boat Works for the trading posts of the far north. A consignment of twenty-one is destined in the spring for the Mackenzie River country, and an additional fifty for the use of the Hudson's Bay Company on the northern lakes.

Urging that the Dominion Government evolve a national immigration policy based on the needs of the country and the adaptability of the immigrants, and insisting on a pre-dominance of British citizen amongst those admitted to the country, a deputation from the National Council of Women waited upon Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, and were promised that the resolution would be laid before the special cabinet sub-committee.

That there are many large colonization plans on foot which will likely be brought to the notice of the Government for support during the next few weeks, is the understanding of officials of the Department of Immigration. Among these is the plan of Col. J. S. Dennis, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who proposes to bring to Canada several hundreds of the demobilized Irish Constabulary with their families and settle them on dry and irrigated lands in Western Canada. Col. Dennis has returned to Canada and it is expected that Government approval of his plan will be sought in the near future.

Other interests are also stated to be taking an active part in colonization work.

So far as can be learned, efforts during the ensuing year are likely to be limited to attempts to bring out agricultural workers from the British Isles, with their families, for settlement on Canadian farms.

Italians Prosper in the Argentine

Have Control of Some of Most Important Industries

A local newspaper has just published a list of immigrants or descendants of immigrants from Italy numbering 111 whose combined fortunes gained in Argentina are estimated to exceed 1,000,000,000 pesos, or $424,500,000 in Canadian money. The list was published in connection with the forthcoming inauguration of a 5,000,000 peso clubhouse which the Italian colony of Buenos Aires has erected.

Italians in Argentina are prominent in all branches of activity but to a large extent in industrial enterprises, some of the most important of which are controlled by them.

Singing Taught in Church

Westminster Abbey now gives lessons to its congregation in the art of interpreting church music. For a short period each Sunday, just before evensong, an expert instructor is present to criticize and assist members of the church in their hymn and psalm singing.

This innovation of Westminster Abbey has, it is said, been practiced with much success in country churches. Let other religious centres go right ahead with the good work and make church singing the hale and hearty thing it ought to be.—London Answers.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

"Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little 'Freezone' on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!"

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Select Laxative Medicine With Great Care

In debility and weakness, medicine should be mild and far reaching. Many pills and purgatives are too hard, are drastic instead of curative. Excessive action is always followed by depression, and knowing this Dr. Hamilton devised his pills of Mandrake and Butternut so as to mildly increase liver and kidney activity, so as to flush out the system by toning and regulating the bowels. Thus do Dr. Hamilton's Pills eliminate poisons from the body, thus do they restore clearness to the skin, thus do they renew health and strength. To keep your system in healthy good working order, regulate it with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. See all dealers or The Catarhazone Co., Montreal.

"What have you done to him?" she said.

He threw out his hand feebly. "You do well to ask me that," he said. "I take all the blame," he said, "I raised his face slowly until his eyes met hers. They were not the eyes she had known. They were the eyes of a man who had been crushed, who had been powdered between the wheels of Fate. The old masterful quality, the old indomitable will that stirred her anger and admiration were gone, and in their place were coils of sorrow and ashes of defeat. For a moment she held back; then, with arms outstretched, she fell upon his breast.

And then he felt his strength return. He drew her to him as all that remained in the world, crushed her to him; then, very gently, released her a little. "He found his fingers threading," he said. "He found his hair, as they had loved to do when she was a little child.

"She sank to her knees beside him, and at last she looked up in his face. "Forgive me, my father," she whispered.

He kissed her forehead and struggled with his voice. "We all make mistakes, Beulah," he said. "I have made mine this twenty-five years, and there—there is the price."

His words turned Beulah's thought to Allan, and the necessity for action brought her to her feet. "We must save him," she cried. "We must, and we will! In the policeman's gone! We must have the best doctors from Calgary." Looking about she found that Grey and Arthurs had left the room. They had slipped out to leave father and child alone with their emotions.

Liver Pains

Pains under the shoulder blades tell of liver derangements.

Other indications are sallow complexion, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and bilious headaches.

The quickest way to arouse the liver to healthful action is by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Continued use will insure lasting relief, correct the whole digestive system and purify the blood.

Mrs. Wm. Barten, Hanover, Ont., writes:

"For some time I suffered from liver trouble. There was a hard, bearing-down feeling in my back which I could not get rid of. Some one advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and found them excellent. The dragging feeling in my back disappeared and I felt much benefited generally. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and always keep them on hand for general use."

don, but she found them at the front of the house.

She seized the policeman by the arm. "You must get us a doctor—the best doctor in the country," she pleaded. "We will spare nothing."

"My guest, Miss Harris, Sergeant Grey," said Arthurs, and the policeman dutifully converted her grasp into a handshake.

"Mr. Arthurs has told me the injured man is your brother. He shall wait for nothing. And the sooner I go the sooner you will have help."

"Your prisoner seems docile enough," Arthurs remarked, as the policeman swung on to his horse.

"Rather a puzzle," said Grey. "Doesn't look the part, but was caught in the act, or next thing to it, and his revolver was found lying on the spot where the young man was shot. By the way, I had almost forgotten. One of the robbers was shot and killed. I shall send a man up to stay about the place until I can get a coroner out here."

"Robbers, do you say?" demanded Beulah. "Then it was for robbery?" "Yes, Miss Harris. It seems your father had a large sum of money on him. We have found no trace of it yet, but it is not likely that more than two were implicated, and as one was shot on the spot this other must know where the money is. We will bring it out of him in due time."

So saying he rode down to the gate, thanked the cowboy who had been keeping an eye on the prisoner, and the two started off at a smart trot down the trail.

CHAPTER XIX. Prisoners of Fate

Beulah returned to the house to minister to her brother, but Mrs. Arthurs stopped her on the stairs. "You mother knows," she said. "They are both in the room with Allan."

Her first impulse was to rush in and complete the family circle, but some fine sense restrained her. For distraction she plunged into the task of preparing breakfast.

At length they came down. Beulah saw them on the stairs, and knew that the girl was bridled.

"Allan is better," her mother said, when she saw the girl. "He has asked for you." And the next minute Beulah was on her knees by the bedside, weeping the looks that would fall over the pale forehead.

"How did I get here, Beulah?" he whispered. "How did we all get here?"

"You have been hurt, Allan," she said. "You have been badly hurt, but you are going to get well again. Think you the stronger we will talk about it, but at present you must lie still and rest."

"Lie still and rest," he repeated. "How good it is to lie still and rest." Later in the day the pain in his wound began to give much discomfort, but he was able to swallow some porridge with pure cream, and his breath came easily. His father stayed about the house, coming every little while to look in upon son and daughter, and as Allan's great constipation gave evidence of winning the fight a deep happiness came, upon John Harris' face. He was able to sleep for a short time, and in the afternoon suggested a walk with his wife. Beulah saw that they were arm in arm as they disappeared in the trees by the river.

"I haven't told you all yet," Harris said to her. "I have done even worse than you suppose, but in some way it doesn't seem so bad today. Last night I was in Gethsemane."

It was strange to hear a word suggestive of religion from his lips. Harris had not renounced religion; he had merely been too busy for it. But this word showed that his mind had been travelling back over old tracks.

"And today we are in Olivet," she answered, tenderly. "What matters it if everything's all right?"

"If only Allan—" he faltered.

"Allan will get well," she said. "When he could withstand the first shock he will get well. Of course he must have attention, but he is in the right place for that."

"The Arthurses are wonderful people," he ventured, after a pause. "Mary, they have found something that we missed."

"But we have found it now, John. We are going to take time to live. That is where we made our mistake."

There was another pause, broken only by the rustle of leaves and the rushing of the river.

"Beulah was right," he said at last. "Beulah is a wonderful girl, and a beautiful."

"She will not be wanting to go back home with us," said the mother. "So much the better. Mary, Mary, we have no home to go back to!"

She looked at him with a sudden puzzled, half-frightened expression. "No home, John? No home? You don't mean that?"

He nodded and turned his face away. "I said I had told you all, he managed at length. . . . I sold the farm."

She was sitting on a fallen log, very tired and grey, and small, but she seemed suddenly to become smaller and keener still.

"Sold the old farm," she repeated, mechanically.

"Yes, I sold the old farm," he said again, as if finding some delight in gauding himself with the repetition. "I thought I saw a chance to make a lot of money if only I had some ready cash to turn in my hand, and I sold it. I thought I would be rich and then I would be happy. But they took the money last night. They found out about it some way, and took it, and nearly killed our boy. Mary, you worked hard all your life, and today you have nothing. I brought you to this."

She looked with unseeing eyes through the trees at the fast-running water. Her thoughts were with the old home, with the ideals they had cherished when they founded it, with the hardships and the sorrow, and the sickness and the pain, and the joy that had hallowed it as no other spot in all the universe—the place where their first love had nursed them in its tenderness, where they had sat hand in hand in the gathering dusk, drinking the ripple of the water and the whisper of the wild duck's wing; where she had gone down into the valley of the shadow and their little children had come into their arms. And it was gone. He had sold it. Without so much as by your leave from the partner of his labours and his life he had sold it and left them destitute.

She saw it all, and for the moment her heart shrank within her. But she saw, too, the futility of it all. She might have upbraided him; she might have returned in part the sorrow he had forced upon her, for he was wounded now and could not strike back. But she rose and stretched her arms toward him.

"You said I had nothing, John. You are wrong. I have you. I have everything."

"And it was to you, beloved, to you, a woman of such great soul, that I could do this thing. . . . I should be utterly wretched."

"But I'm not," it seems such a puny thing, it's hardly worth the while—except for the happiness it might bring to you, and Beulah."

They sat long in the sunshine of the warm autumn afternoon, living again through sweet, long-forgotten days, and already planning for their future. Harris would again exercise homestead right, and with Allan to take up land alongside they should have comfort and happiness. They would go back to the beginning; they would start over again; and this time they would not stray from the path.

When they returned to the house it was almost evening, and they found the doctor from town busy over Allan.

"Would have killed nine men out of ten," he told Harris, quite frankly; "but this boy is the tenth. He's badly hurt, but he'll pull through, if we can arrest any infection. His constitution and his clean blood will save him."

Before the doctor left Arthurs inquired if the police had any further details of the crime. Harris appeared to have lost interest in everything except the well-being of his family.

"Quite a mystery," said the doctor. "I understand one of the robbers was shot, and I will go on up from here to-morrow the police will bring out a jury, and a formal verdict will be returned. A systematic search will be made, as I understand that you money, as I understand that you turning to Harris—suffered a heavy

Note and Comment

It is hoped that every farmer in the district will attend the three-day Chautauqua, to be held in Monitor, March 21-22-23.

Addresses, moving pictures, demonstrations, short courses of instruction, etc., on all kinds of farm activities will be given. The Big Hall should be filled to overflowing at every session, so turn out and show that you appreciate the efforts being put forth, by the Government, in your behalf. Come along and bring your family with you.

Ratepayers in the Stewart R. M. are asked to keep in mind the dates of the various Ward meetings, a list of which will be found on another page.

Div. 4 will meet in town on March 30th.

An instructor of music says that the following is the way to produce good jazzy music: Five young men, who cannot read music, are given different pieces to play at once. They are then equipped with a razzoo, a blazzoo, a biablum, a wahoo and a wheezer. They are then filled with Jamaica ginger, rock salt, rough-on-rats, barb wire, home brew and let loose. The noise that results is called jazz. Those who hear it say they could just die dancing.

What the farmer really needs is a car that will run on oats.

Sandy McNab, being a well-known and popular member of the village kirk, was asked by the minister to canvas the other members on behalf of a charity he was interested in. Soon afterwards the minister met Sandy walking irresolutely along the road, and at once guessed the cause. "Man, Sandy," he said earnestly, "I'm sorry to see you in this state." "Ah, well, its for the good of the cause," replied the delinquent quite happily. "You see, minister, its a' through these subscriptions. I've been down the glen collectin' fun's, an' at every house they made me hae a wee drappie."

"Every house! But—but—but surely, Sandy, there are some of the kirk members who are teetotallers?"

"Aye," there are; but I wrote tae those!"

AS A GOOD FARMER TREATS HIS FARM:

In a sense this community is like a farm: it pays according to the way it is treated.

The successful farmer co-operates with his farm. The same principle holds good in community development.

Our community is composed of two closely related elements—town and country and they are both essential to healthy community growth.

Accomplishing this is simply a matter of sincere co-operation among all of us in this community.

Our idea is to sell only such goods as have the quality to give high grade results. To consider good performance by our implements as part of our obligation. And to practice the square deal towards each and every customer. On this basis we invite the co-operation of every farmer in this community.

We are taking the chances. You will make the saving, as long as our present stocks last. Let us figure on your requirements at our new prices.

A Useful By-product

Tons of Bobbed Hair Are Made Into Mattresses

The momentum of the bobbed hair fad has reached a record pace in Chicago.

Careful investigation reveals that scissors of local hairdressers are exacting a daily toll from 2,500 women, ranging in age from flappers to stately, white-haired matrons.

If the present rate is maintained, all the women in Chicago will be bobbed by October 23 next, a hairdresser said. This authority figures that 351,534 hours daily will be saved if all the women here bob their hair.

The average amount of hair shorn in a bobbing is about three ounces. Although this hair is unsuitable for use as switches and transformations, it is excellent for mattresses, and it is estimated that more than 3,000 class A full width mattresses can be made as a by-product of the bobbing industry in Chicago.

NOW SINGS THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Saskatchewan Man Who Has Found New Health and Gained Twenty Pounds in Weight, Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Wakaw, Sask. — (Special).—Simon Gawluk, a well-known and respected resident here is a sworn friend of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He has tried them and found them good.

"I am more than thankful that I was led to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Gawluk states, 'I had backache and after using Dodd's Kidney Pills I grew much stronger and I gained twenty pounds in weight.'

"Now I am very thankful to say I have no more backache and I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to everyone."

That Mr. Gawluk's trouble came from the kidneys is evidenced by the relief he got from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are purely and simply a Kidney remedy. They heal and strengthen the kidneys and put them in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. Sound kidneys mean pure blood. Pure blood means good health.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make sound kidneys.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are so changeable—one day bright, the next cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds, and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Wishing for sleep is a poor-way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Tea and coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both famous Instant Postum (in time) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

The local Board of Trade has been working for several weeks gathering data relative to the cost, etc. of the erection and operation of a Creamery, here at Monitor. A meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 22nd, during the Chautauqua, when plans will be formulated tending towards the floating of a stock selling campaign for a local Creamery. Every cream shipper, and all other farmers, are urgently requested to come to this meeting on the 22nd.

The Provincial government has recently passed legislation whereby all the cream buying stations, in Alberta, will be closed within a few weeks and direct shipment made to the creameries by each individual farmer. Government inspectors will be stationed at each creamery.
